Wisdom and patience build
many great roads.

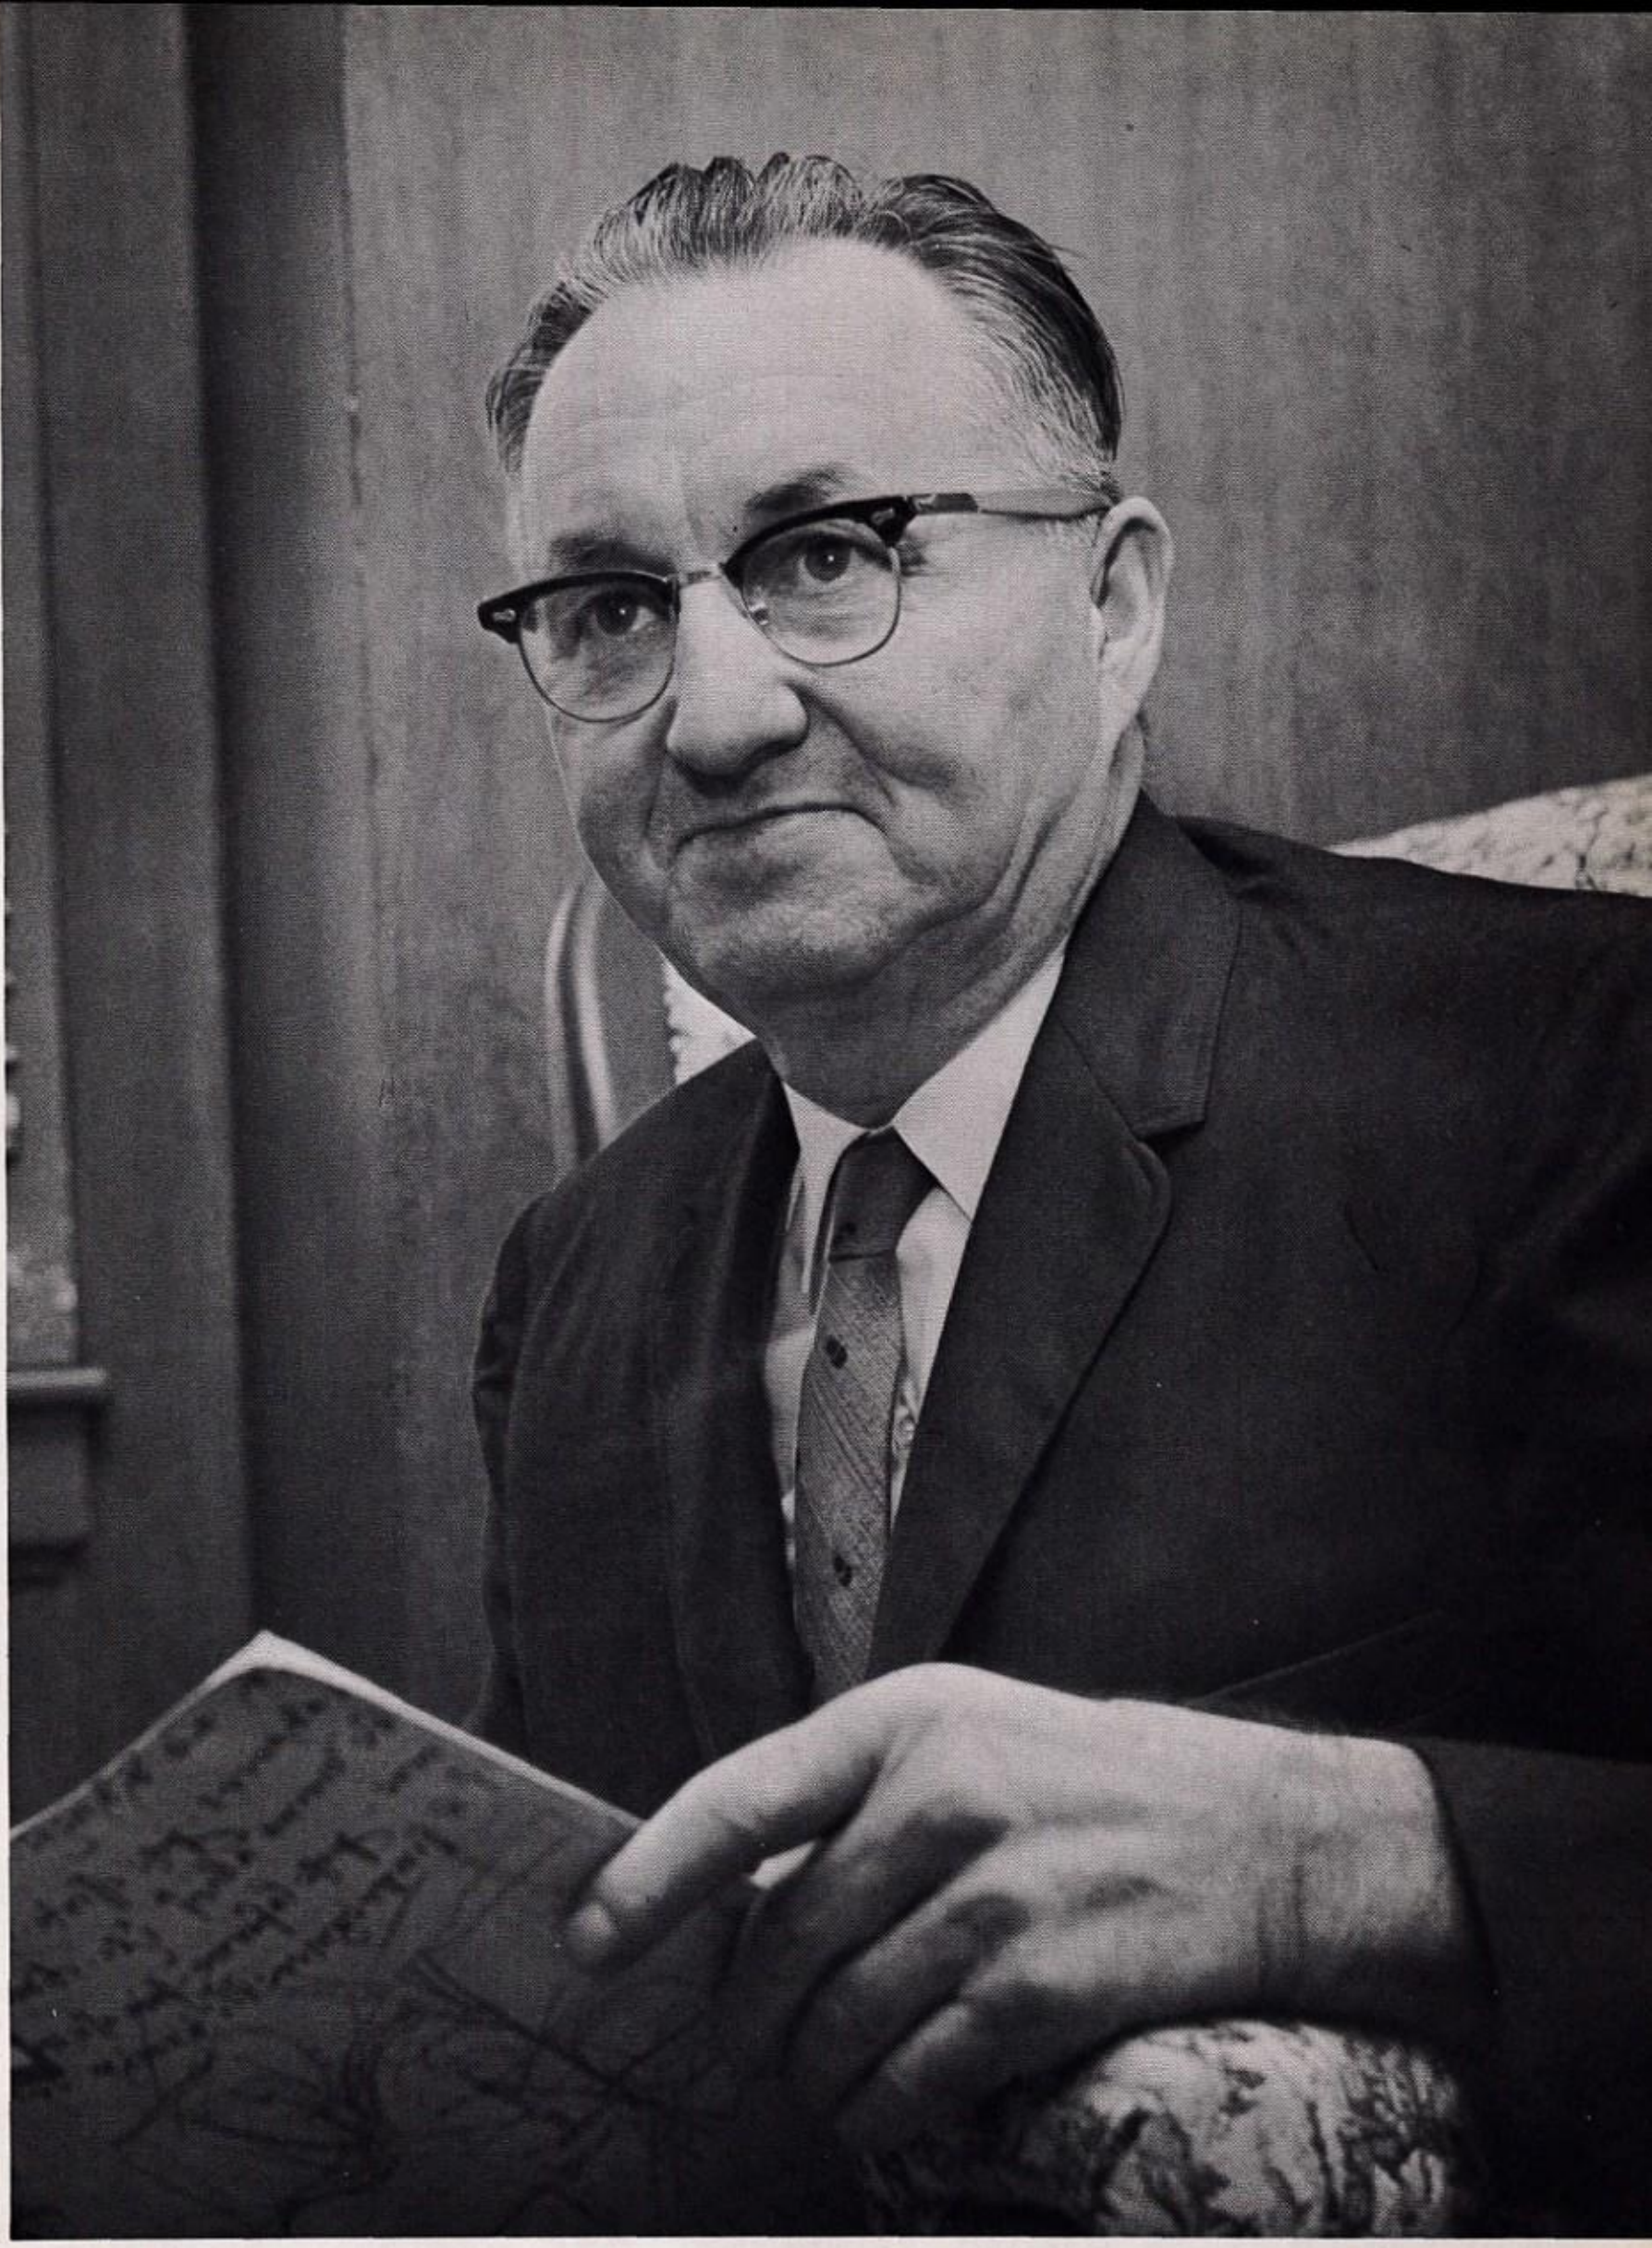
Northwestern Lehigh High School
Route #2
New Tripoli, Pennsylvania

Foreword

The Yearbook Staff of 1967 presents this edition of "Reverie" for the purpose of having an indelible record of the events of the school year 1966-67.

The roads which are our theme will guide our steps and the steps of those to follow us as we move forward to reach our goals in life.

DEDICATION



The Class of 1967 respectfully dedicates this edition of the "Reverie" to Mr. David Snyder. As a custodian at Northwestern for many years, he sacrificed much of his time and health for the betterment of the school. We are grateful to Mr. Snyder for his faithful service and dedicate this year-book to him as a token of our gratitude.

Halloween Party and Dance

On Friday, October 29, 1967, the seniors sponsored a Halloween Party for elementary students. Members of the class of '67 participated as instructors for the games and supervised all events at the party.

Immediately following the party, a Halloween Dance was held in the gym for high school students.

Playbill

This year those attending either of the presentations of "Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House" received a published playbill complete with patrons and numerous advertisements. This successful innovation by the class of '67 added over $300 to the class treasury.

Commencement Exercises

Baccalaureate exercises were held on the evening of Sunday, June 11, 1967. The Reverend Charles D. Rockel delivered the sermon.

Class Orators

Corby G. Street, Kenneth E. Hill

Commencement exercises were held on the following Tuesday, June 13, 1967. The guest speaker was Judge Henry V. Scheirer, a judge of the Lehigh County Court of Common Pleas, whose topic was "Where Can I Go From Here." Orations were given by Kenneth E. Hill and Corby G. Street, who spoke on "Criteria for Moral Standards in Today's Youth" and "Development of Moral Standards in the School," respectively.

Junior Class

SEATED: Donna Utt, Anna Wisser, Larry Bachman, Mrs. Miles. STANDING: Sterling Hamm, Mr. Koch.

Without the juniors-who-can't-wait-to-be-seniors, there would be no lively and spirited conversation bubbling forth from the doorways of 107, 110, and 116 every school morning.

The class of '68 has had a variety of activities this year. Along with having a dance after the football bonfire rally, they also sold "Tiger" license plates to upperclassmen. The most spectacular event in the juniors' schedule was the presentation of the annual Prom. "Spring Mist" was a great success and was enjoyed by everyone who attended.

We wish much success and happiness to next year's graduates and hope they will have a memorable senior year.

Officers are: President, Larry Bachman; Vice-President, Sterling Hamm; Secretary, Anna Wisser; and Treasurer, Donna Utt. The advisors are Mrs. Miles and Mr. Koch.

Without the laughter and gaiety that is contributed by the class of '69, the halls of N.H.S. would be dark and dreary.

Because the class is newly organized, they have not carried on many activities. But the one function which they did sponsor, The Sweetheart Swing, featuring the Lost Souls, proved to be a tremendous hit!

Through their sales in the annual magazine campaign, they acquired over three hundred dollars for their quickly growing treasury.

The best of luck and success to this class in its future years at N.H.S.

Officers are: President, Gary Stoudt; Vice President, Mike Kohler; Secretary, Ann Steigerwalt; and Treasurer, Gail Emmick. The Advisors are Mr. Kemmerer and Mr. Dilliard.

School Store

Northwestern's Student Council, under the direction of Mr. Loy, had a variety of projects this year. Among the most important was the revision of outdated rules in the Student Handbook. In order to raise money to have the booklet published, the Council sold tiger t-shirts and their stock of school store items. Next year it plans to buy a completely new stock so that it may start a new school term with active sales. During the year, the project of designing a school flag progressed and is soon to be completed. The Council also held its annual "Bundle Day" in May. Usable clothing was donated by students and faculty for the "Save the Children Federation." On Career Day, Council members served as guides to invited speakers who presented talks on their respective occupations or the area of work in which they were employed.

This year homeroom presidents, vice presidents, and secretaries were elected by the students in each room. The homeroom presidents were included in all Council meetings. Elected Council officers for the 1966-67 school term were: President, Judy Emmick; Vice-President, Charles Fenstermaker; Secretary, Linda Keller; and Treasurer, Gloria Zimmerman.

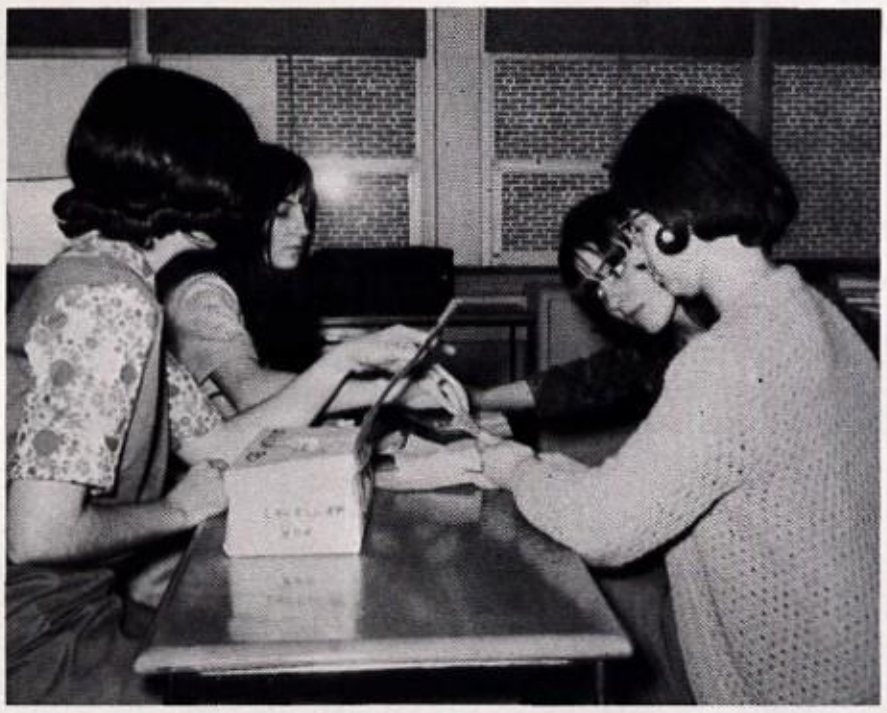
A new advisor has taken over the guidance of the "Reverie" staff. Under the watchful eye of Mr. John Achenbach, this year's staff undertook the problems of planning and producing a yearbook. With their new advisor, the 1967 staff has tried many new and sometimes startling ideas in the layout and execution of this yearbook.

The staff itself this year was an unusual one; though each member had assigned to him or her one particular task, the majority of the staff worked in double and even triple capacities. With an inexperienced, though willing advisor, the '67 "Reverie" staff is one of which the school may be proud.

This yearbook will be the last to come out complete with graduation exercises and the senior class trip, as the next yearbook will be distributed in June.

"Tiger Talk"



The school newspaper has enlightened the students, faculty, and alumni with concise and accurate reports of school activities. Although the "Tiger Talk" staff is a small organization of writers and reporters, it captures everyone's interest by expressing the mood of the students in the articles it produces.

The editors Linda Fries and Gloria Zimmerman are the skillful leaders who, under the supervision of Miss Wertman, make certain that "Tiger Talk" upholds its high standard of news reporting.

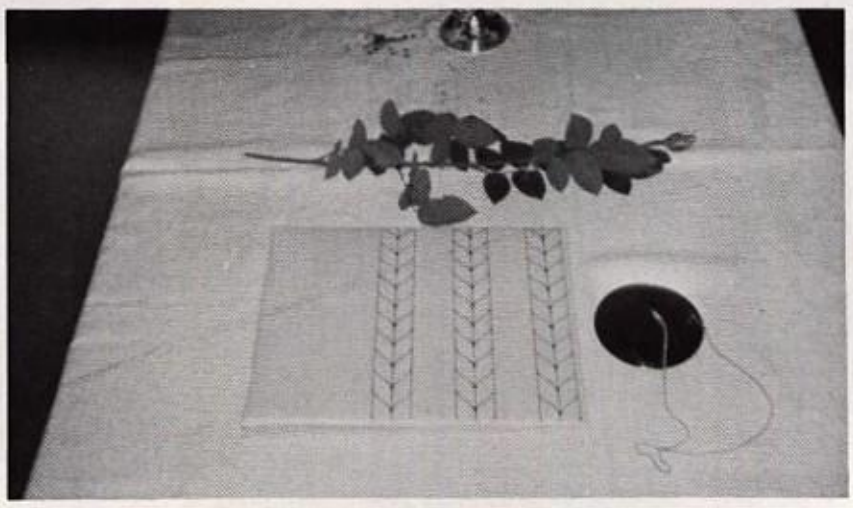
Northwestern's National Honor Society consists of students from both senior and junior classes who have been elected by the faculty and administration on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

This year, as other years, a tapping ceremony was conducted to induct new members. Presiding at the ceremony were the seniors who were selected to be members during their junior year. Following the ceremony, refreshments were served to members and their parents.

Also, as last year, the honorary society was led by a team of officers. They were: President--Kenneth Hill; Vice-President--Brian Kistler; Secretary--Cheryl Donat; and Treasurer--Kenneth Gehringer.



Future Teachers' Club

The main purpose of the L. Harry Kerschner Future Teachers of America, under the guidance of Mr. Davis, is to familiarize students with the duties and responsibilities of teaching.

This year, for the first time, the FTA was in charge of the discussion with the college freshmen who returned during their Christmas holiday. Questions were posed to the panel of returning alumni by chosen FTA members. This "round table discussion" proved to be successful and informative to all senior high students. Also included in the 1966-67 agenda were field trips to Albright and Lebanon Valley Colleges and interviews with Mr. Mushrush, high school principal, and Mr. Ritter, a student teacher in the German department.

Girls' Service Club

Need a Girl Friday? If so, contact the Girls' Service Club, a newly organized activity. These girls help teachers by typing, running off stencils, and conduction physical education classes for elementary students.

Under the direction of Mrs. Knerr, these eager and helpful students give of their time to aid those who request their service. They work together to obtain rewarding satisfaction from the tasks they accomplish.

Future Nurses' Club

A nurse needs personal traits as well as abilities which are essential in the profession of medicine. The Future Nurses' Club helps to develop these traits in ambitious girls who are looking toward nursing as their career.

Mrs. Hausman, R.N., leads these girls toward this profession with training that will surely be of help to them.

A few of the activities in which the girls engaged were sponsoring the drive for Christmas food boxes for needy families, holding their annual "Roller Rama", and visiting Lankenau Hospital.

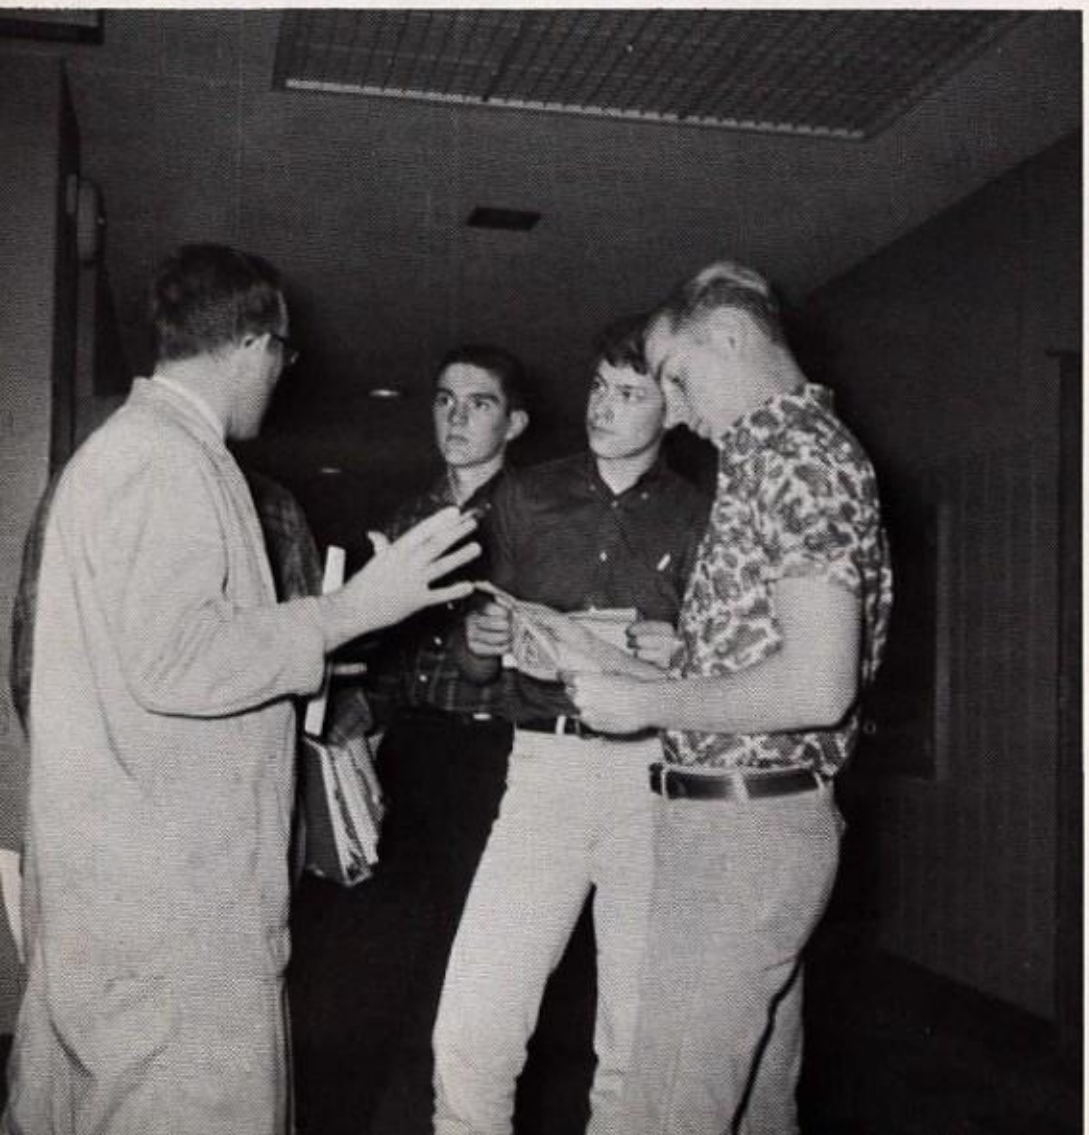
Future Farmers of America



This year the goal of the FFA was to build up its standing in all local and state wide competing contests. This goal was certainly reached, as the active organization won first place for its exhibit at both the Allentown and Upper Perkiomen Fairs. At the State Farm Show in Harrisburg, fourth place honors were received.

Another area of achievement was a television demonstration of the operation of a single log dam which aids in the conservation of fish. Several members of the organization and Mr. Byler, their advisor, appeared on the broadcast.

Officers for 1966-67 were President, Kenneth Kunkel; Secretary, Barry Harter; Sentinel, Joseph Brunner; Chaplain, Leon Meitzler; Reporter, Glenn Miller; and Treasurer, Preston Pfeifly.

The boys in Junior Agriculture learn principles of farming and modern agricultural methods. The group, advised by Mr. Byler, is not what may be called an active organization in terms of school affairs. But within its own confines, this organization is a very vital part of the lives of many junior high boys.

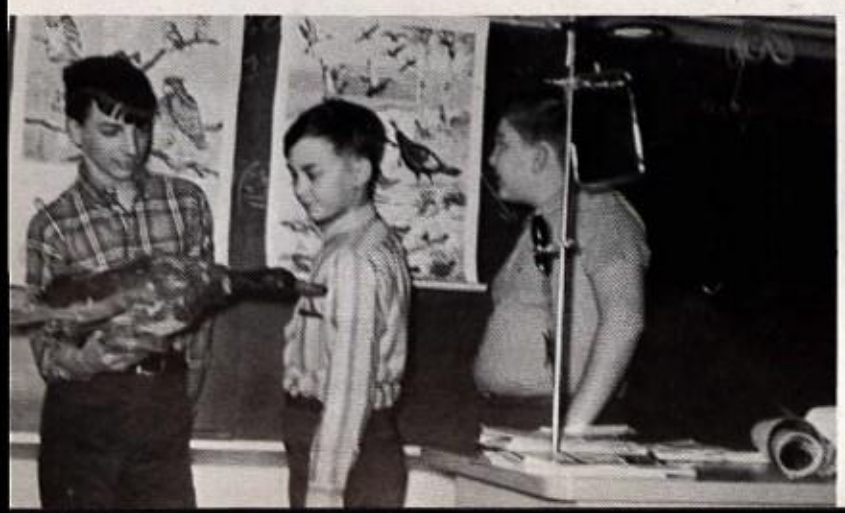
Jr. Science Club



Observing . . . studying . . . learning. The Jr. Science Club was developed to teach students more about nature and science. Mr. Masters and his students work together on their intensive studies of the world of birds.

This club, built around a framework of nature study at firsthand, visited the Hawk Mountain Bird Sanctuary to observe the less numerous birds and study their habits. These students are interested in expanding their knowledge of the aviary world, and in coming closer to the world of nature.

Lights . . . camera . . . action!! These students are always available when a film has to be shown.

Morning, noon, or night, any number of underclassmen will spring to your aid, carrying a projector to the place which is designated.

All you must do is supply them with the film. They will complete the job, threading, focusing, adjusting the sound, and projecting. Rewinding, however, is an optional task. Home movies will never be a problem for the members of this club.

JUNIOR

Junior Chorus

A new interest in choral music has captured the attention of our students, which is easily recognized by the large number that flocked to the music room for the laborious tryout session. Mrs. Soldridge put every hopeful through his or her vocal pace during that first practice. Thanks to a careful selection of music and arrangements, both Junior Chorus and Senior Chorus proved themselves worthy of well-deserved praise.

Senior Chorus, composed of students from grades 10 to 12, and Junior Chorus, composed of students from grades 7 to 9, displayed their showmanship in the annual Chorus Concert in May. The Choruses also combined their talents for several assembly presentations and their own banquet. In all, the groups have enjoyed a most harmonious year in song.

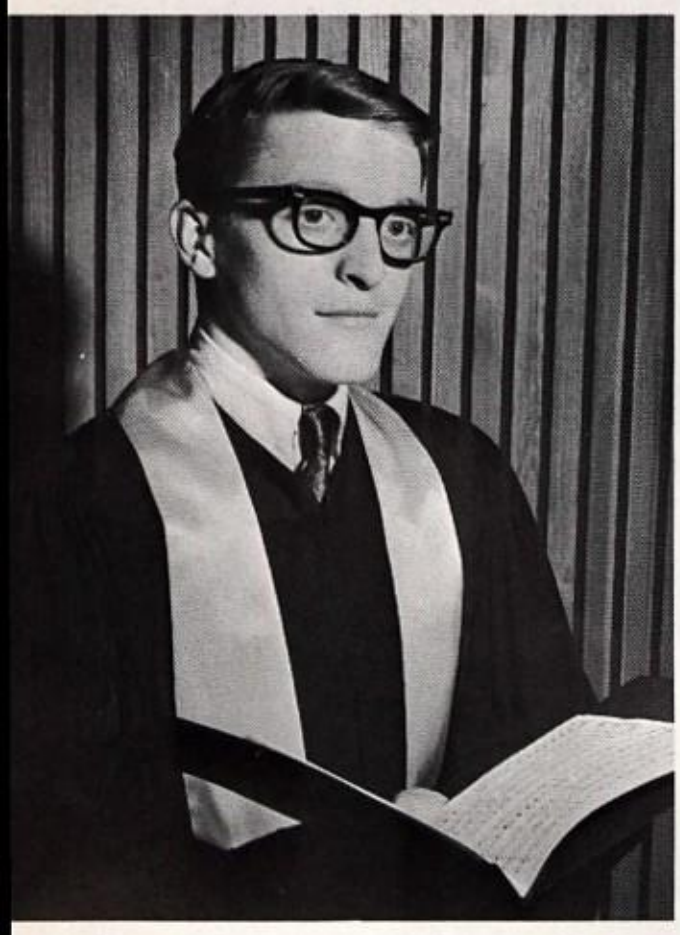
County Chorus

Fourteen members of the Senior Chorus represented N.H.S. at the Fourth Annual County Chorus Festival. Composed of a select group of one hundred and fifty singers, the Festival was held at Emmaus High School on February 4, 1967. The Chorus performed works ranging from compositions by Lasso and Bach to folk songs and tunes from the Broadway musical "Brigadoon." The fine result was the product of two weeks of group rehearsal plus unlimited individual practice by the chorus members.



District and Regional Chorus

This year N.H.S. was proud to be represented by Sherwood Zettlemoyer, a junior, in both District and Regional Chorus. Held at Palmerton High School, District Chorus was conducted on the 5th, 6th, and 7th of January. Regional Chorus was held on February 16, 17, and 18 at Exeter Township High School. Mr. Robert Cutler, Director of Music at Lehigh University, and Mr. Allen W. Flock, Professor of Music at Bucknell University, were guest conductors at the District and Regional Choruses respectively.

County Band

County Band consists of a group of band instrumentalists from eight districts who meet in one of the local high schools to perform a concert for the enjoyment of the people of the Lehigh Valley. These members are chosen by band directors of the individual schools according to their musical ability and performance.

This year, County Band was held at William Allen High School on February 4. Six students from Northwestern participated in this musical concert. This was an experience for all who participated in learning to adjust to the different techniques of band directing.

District Band

District Band consists of musicians from different counties who meet to perform two concerts for music lovers throughout Eastern Pennsylvania. The members are chosen by auditioning before a group of band directors chosen for a particular instrument. This year District Band was held at Boyertown Area High School on February 24 and 25.

Northwestern was proud to have Keith Reitz as a representative at this concert for the 1966-67 school year.

Leading the NHS Band at parades and football games are the zesty banner bearers, carrying the emblem of the band to which they belong. At their back come the stolid color guards, protecting the colors with dignity and honor.

In addition to these October activities, the color guard also participates in a mid-floor presentation of the colors at home basketball games, using their own initiative to develop original routines and ideas.

Colorful sparks of the band front are the vibrant majorettes. This year they brought variety and enjoyment to the public when they performed at football games, parades, and basketball games. They faithfully executed various original routines to several band selections and they may be sure that NHS is proud of their performances.

The man with the whistle! This splendidly bedecked figure at the head of the band keeps the cadence during parades and football games. Besides bearing the responsibility of the band's performance, the Drum Major adds a touch of pagentry to the marching columns of the NHS band.

Band

The NHS Band began its 1966-67 season with a series of Halloween parades in October and November under the direction of Mr. Frederick Mantz. Also to their credit is the entertainment they provided during half-time at football and basketball games. The band also added sparkle to pep rallies and various assembly programs.

Every day after school during football season, onlookers were able to watch forty-eight legs wave wildly in the air. This is but one of the rigorus training exercises used by coaches Morgan, Civitts, and Bowman to train these junior and senior high boys into a fighting football team.

At the time the above picture was taken, the team was going through a series of workouts in the rain. "Neither rain, nor sleet" stops the football team from getting into shape. The boys are proud of their work, and NHS is proud of the boys. With their fighting drive and high enthusiasm, NHS is well on the way to becoming a leader in true football spirit.

Varsity

In November the Tigers went out on the basketball court little knowing that their efforts would prove as rewarding as they did. With a 9-12 record under their belts at the end of the season, they proudly walked into Northwestern's record book--this was the Tiger's most successful season. Again they defeated the Parkland Trojans in a near dead heat, and followed up with a win over Slatington. The coach, Mr. Stoudt, saw to it that the boys were in good condition and ready to perform their best. The season is over, but the boys who will represent N.H.S. next year are eagerly awaiting the 1967-68 season. There is no doubt that we are sure to have a great team to represent N.H.S. on the basketball courts.

Varsity "N"

This year was the first in which girls were admitted to Varsity "N." This organization includes all students who have received a varsity letter "N" because they have given their time and athletic ability to one or more Northwestern sports.

Under the supervision of Mr. Stoudt, the club had a variety of activities, such as hoagie sales, basketball game and wrestling meet refreshment sales, dances, and sending fruit baskets to the hospitalized.

Officers are: President, Ray Hartman; Vice President, Irwin Hamm; Secretary, Stephanie Supp; and Treasurer, Melinda Stoudt.

The wrestling team had a good season this year even though the meet record doesn't show it. After 3 years of wrestling, 5 of our boys won their first round in this year's PIAA District XI tournament. Joel Fenstermaker, a sophomore, went as far as the quarter finals before being eliminated. This is a compliment to the training of Mr. Civitts, head coach, and his assistant, Mr. Phillips.

Mr. Stoudt

This year's baseball team, under the direction of veteran coach Russell Stoudt, has not been in the win column as much as it would like, but this is not due to a lack of effort. The Tigers have good hitting power, and just need to put it to more effective use. With only two seniors on the squad, we should have an experienced team for next spring.

Varsity

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad is composed of eight very active girls who are the "spirit builders" of Northwestern. This year they worked hard at a number of activities in order to purchase pompoms to add spark to their cheers. During the school term, under the supervision of Mrs. Pierce, they sponsored a dance and sold a large number of 1967 calendars. This enthusiasm has also produced unusual and peppy cheers such as the new "welcome yell."

Hard work and long hours of practice will usually bring a rewarding result. The J.V. Cheerleaders most assuredly proved this to be true when they appeared at pep rallies, football and basketball games, and wrestling meets.

They added many new gymnastic stunts to their cheers and presented a new song-cheer at the beginning of each game. We are certainly proud of this group of girls.

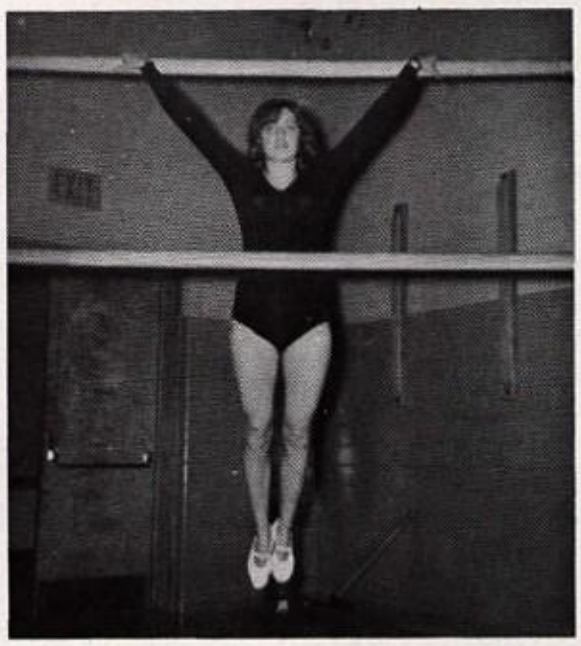
Gym Show

On the evenings of April 14 and 15, it was circus time at the Tiger Tent, Northwestern's 1967 Gym Show. The event began with a precision tumbling exhibition by thirty energetic tigerettes. This was followed by a 3-ring Philippine bamboo pole dance complete with dancers in grass skirts and bare feet.

As the program progressed, there were featured a floor exercise by Lynn German, an interpretive dance by Sandy Yost and Ann Steigerwalt to the music of "Born Free," and a Tiger Tap dance with our own mascots in the spotlight.

The "Flipping Four" came next and received much applause for their fabulous exhibition on the mats. Then, on each of the various gym apparatus, groups of students skillfully performed to the best of their athletic ability. As an added attraction, each piece of apparatus was individually spotlighted to feature a proficient gymnast. Then the tune of the circus changed as Judy and Karen Gaither were highlighted as the "Sisters of Siam." They performed an original choreographed dance routine to the music of "Escape." After returning from the world of the Orient, the audience was presented with an Indian Club routine performed in the dark by girls who hand-maneuvered illuminated clubs.



Then it was comedy time at the Tiger Tent as three hobo clowns entered the gym to please the crowd with their amusing antics. But it was soon time to bring the evening presentation to a close. To the tune of "Wheels," the entire cast of the Tiger Tent assembled in the gym as Kathy Delong and Phil Fuller were featured on the mats. The Tiger Tent, which was directed by Mrs. Barbara Pierce, was certainly a fine display of athletic ability at Northwestern and proved to be a most delightful event.

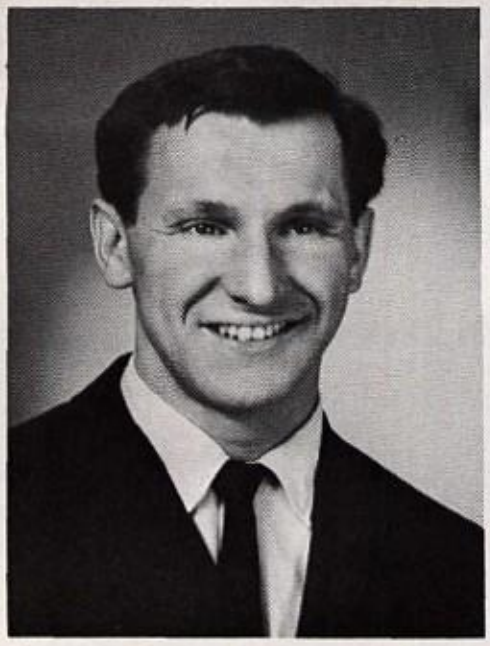
Retired Teacher

In June, Miss Roma I. Hamm retired after fifty-one years of teaching. Miss Hamm obtained credits for her State Standard Certificate by attending Muhlenberg Extension School and Kutztown State College. She began her teaching career in Kemmerer's School in Heidelberg Township and continued to teach in other one-room schools for thirty-five years. She then became a member of the elementary teaching staff at Northwestern where she taught the fourth grade for sixteen years.

Miss Hamm is certainly a credit to the teaching profession.

English and Foreign Languages Department



RICHARD BAER teaches German I, II, III, and IV and theme writing. He was director of this year's senior play, and was field-trip co-ordinator for the New York play, "Cyrano de Bergerac."

THOMAS GREENE, who teaches English, reading, and spelling, helps the seventh and eighth grades improve their reading a ability. Mr. Greene is a Muhlenberg College graduate.

SHIRLEY HERSHEY, a newcomer to Northwestern, teaches sophomore and senior English. Mrs. Hershey is a Penn State graduate and attended Lehigh University graduate school.

Picture Not Available

GRACE MOORE teaches junior English, and French I, II, III, and IV. Miss Moore is a graduate of Bucknell University and usually spends her summers traveling abroad.

DAVID KOCH teaches freshman and junior English and is advisor of the class of '68. He is well known for his candidness and his down-to-earth philosophy.

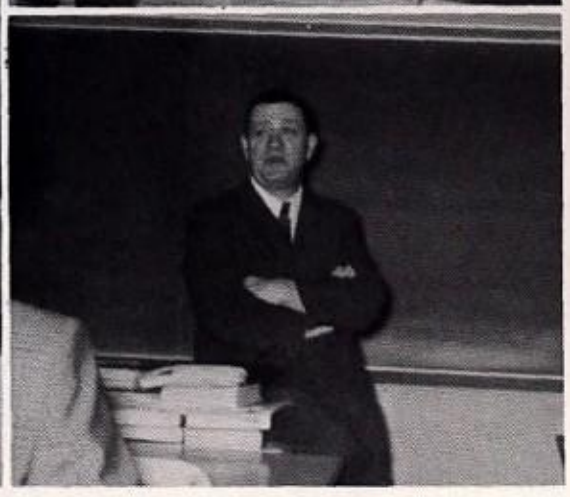
Social Studies Department

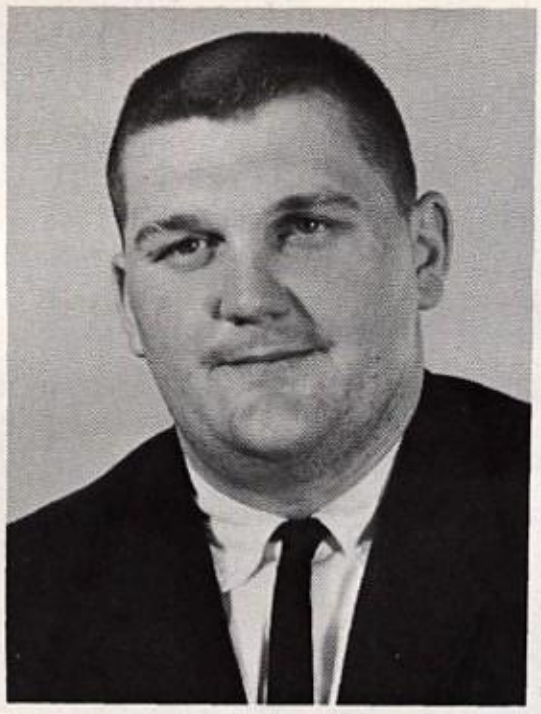
JOHN ACHENBACH teaches civics and world cultures. He is currently serving his first year as advisor of the "Reverie" staff.

GEORGE DILLIARD teaches American History and is advisor to the class of '69. He is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College.

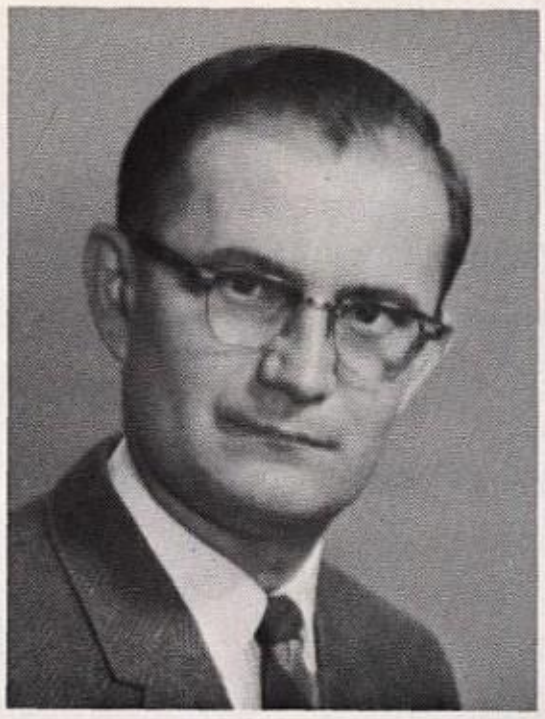
CAMILLE SANTANGELO teaches seventh grade social studies and eighth grade English. A new teacher at Northwestern, Mrs. Santangelo is a graduate of Kutztown State College.

RUSSELL STOUDT teaches American History, economics, and problems of democracy. He is advisor of Varsity "N" and is coach of varsity basketball and baseball teams.

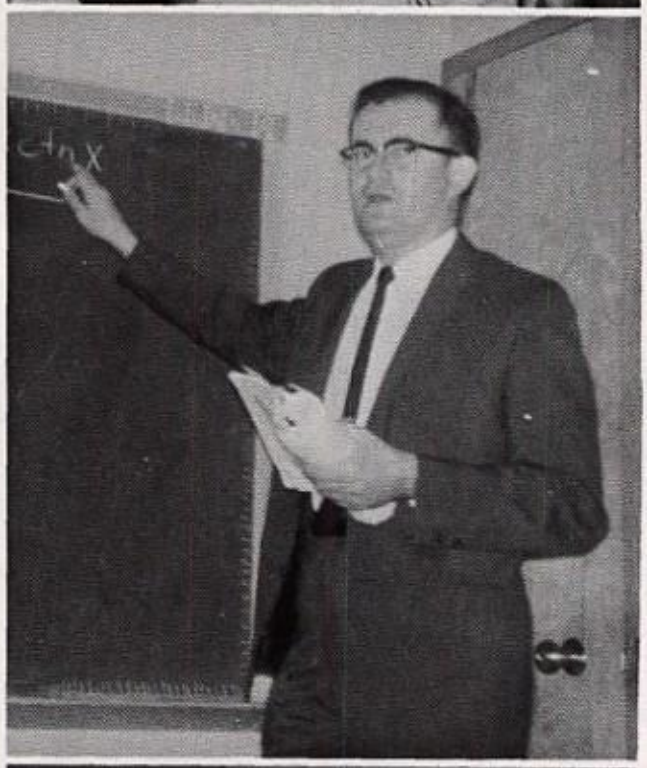




RICHARD BOWMAN teaches eighth and ninth grade math. Mr. Bowman is coach of the junior varsity basketball team and assistant baseball and football coach. He is also advisor to the class of '67.

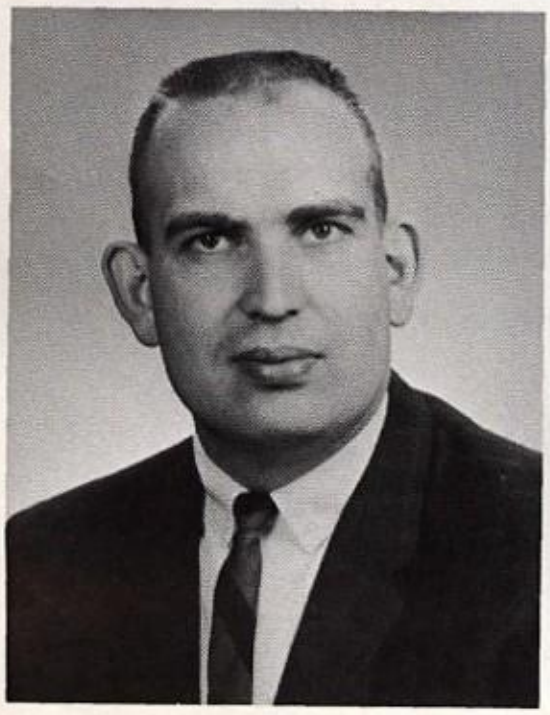


MARVIN DAVIS teaches Algebra II, advanced algebra, and trigonometry. A graduate of Kutztown State College, his is also serving as junior high guidance counselor.

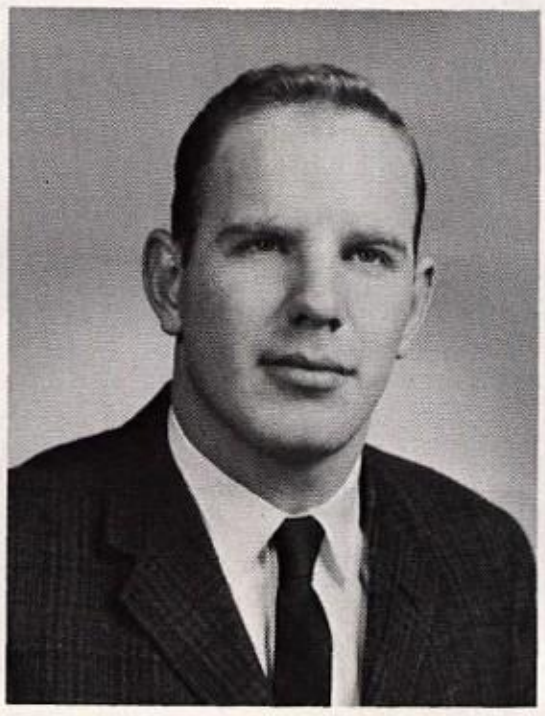


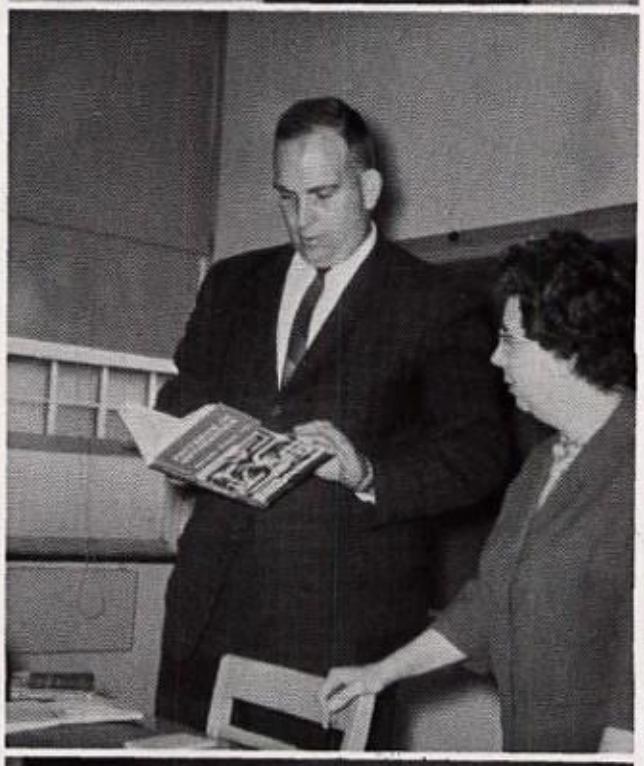
Mathematics Department

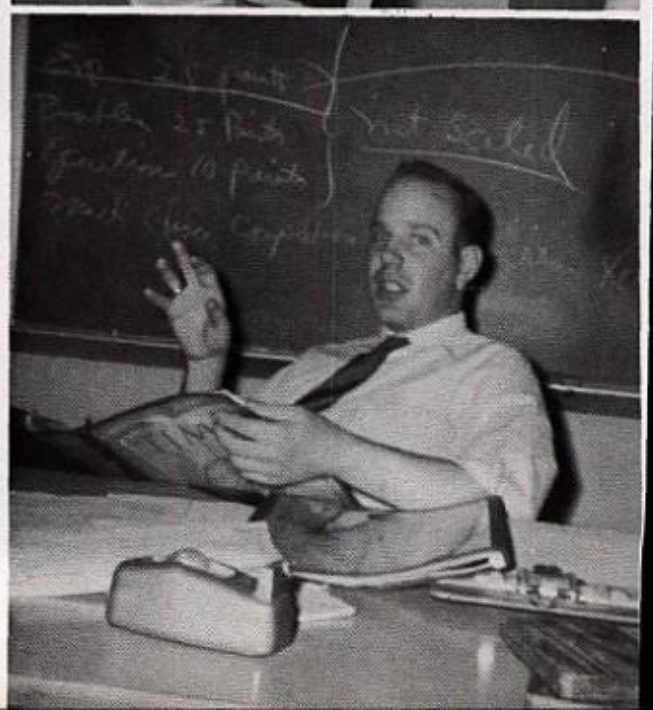
WILLIAM LOY, one of our less diminutive teachers, teaches algebra, geometry, and introduction analysis. He is also advisor to the Student Council and the National Honor Society.

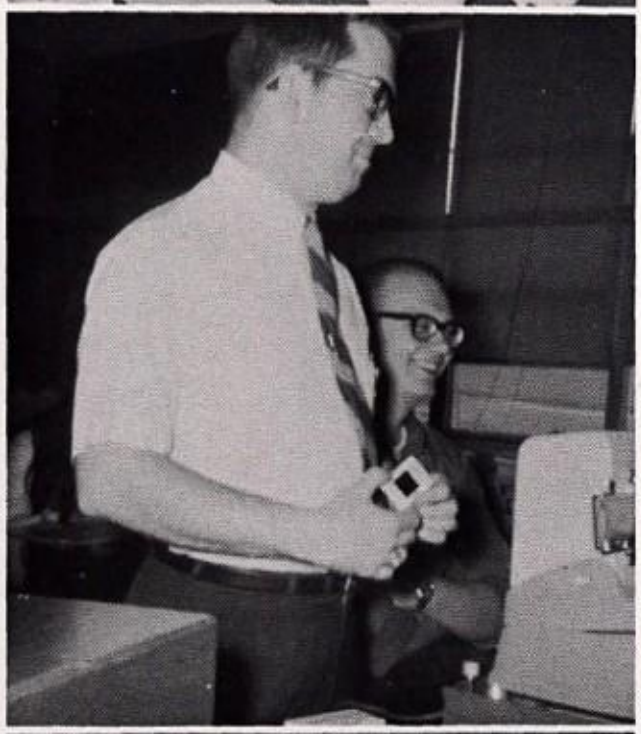


RALPH MORGAN teaches junior high math. He is coach of the football team and advisor to this year's seniors, the class of '67.

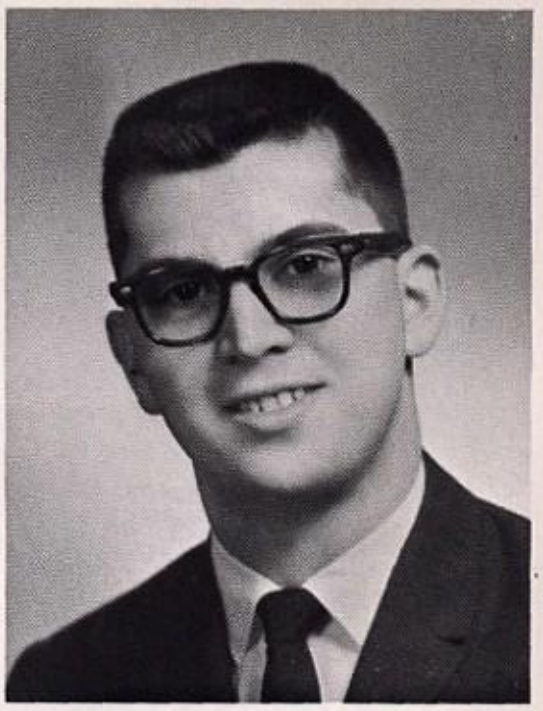






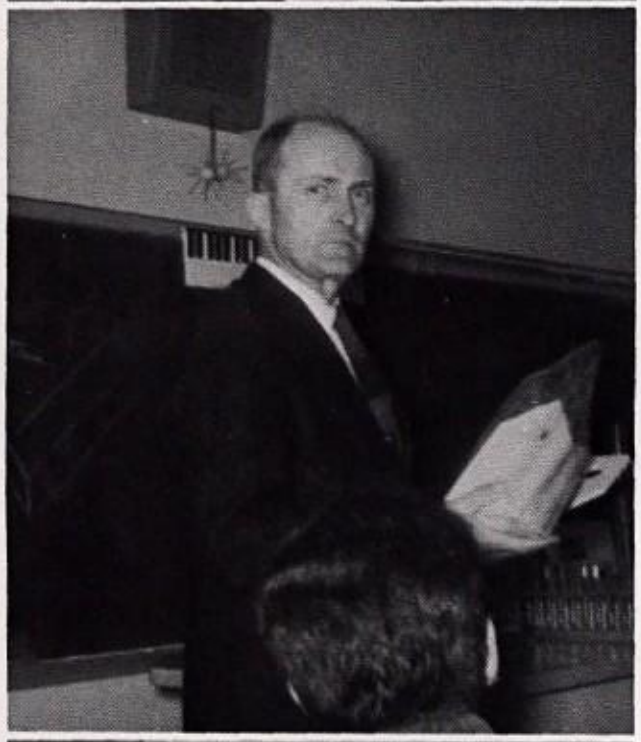


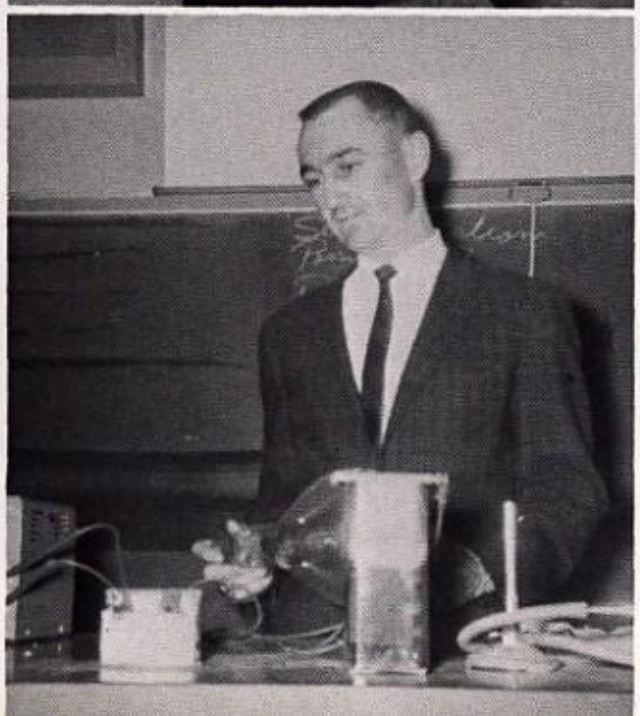
J. PAUL CIVITTS teaches physics and 10th and 12th grade chemistry. He is advisor of the Physical Fitness Club, assistant football coach and head wrestling coach.



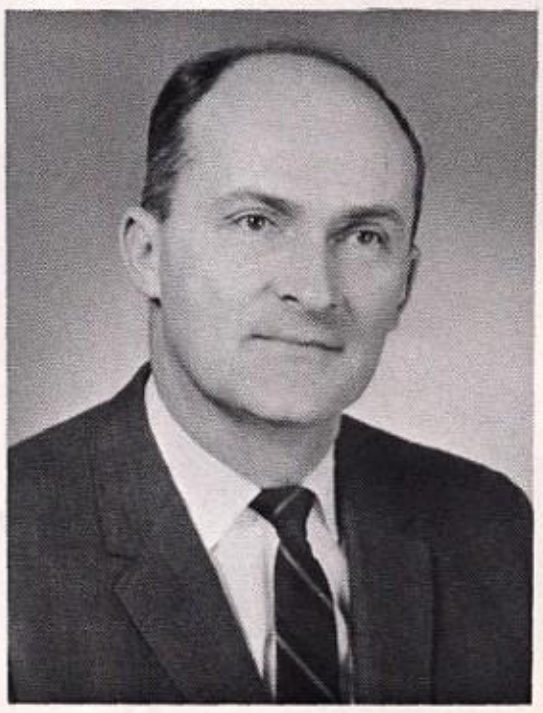
ROBERT FRANTZ teaches ninth and tenth grade biology and capably advises the Projectionist Club. Mr. Frantz received his B. S. from Kutztown State College.

Science Department

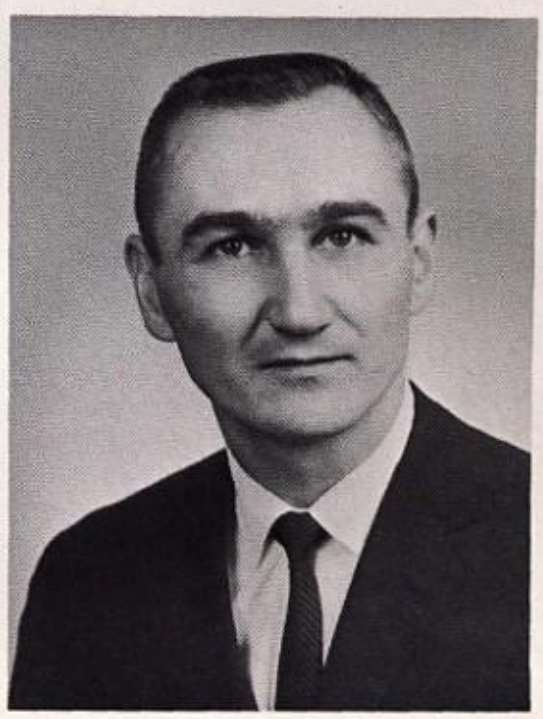




WILLIAM MASTERS teaches junior high science and is advisor to the Junior Science Club. Mr. Masters graduated from Kutztown State College.



DAVID SMITH teaches junior high science and driver education. He is Northwestern's athletic director, and is responsible for approving the various interschool sports in which we are engaged.



Business Education Department

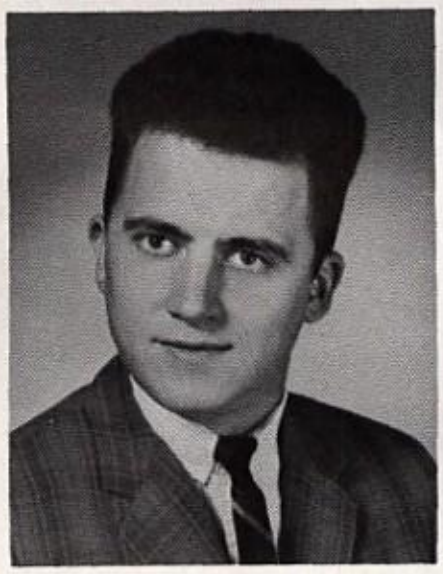
ARDETH SCHLAUGH teaches typing, notehand, business math and retail sales. A newcomer, she is a graduate of Cedar Crest College.

DARLENE WERTMAN instructs students in shorthand, typing and office practice. She also directs the production of "Tiger Talk," Northwestern's newspaper.

CRAIG YEANISH teaches business law and bookkeeping. Mr. Yeanish is also an antique-lover and is constantly seeking new additions for his collection.

Vocational Department

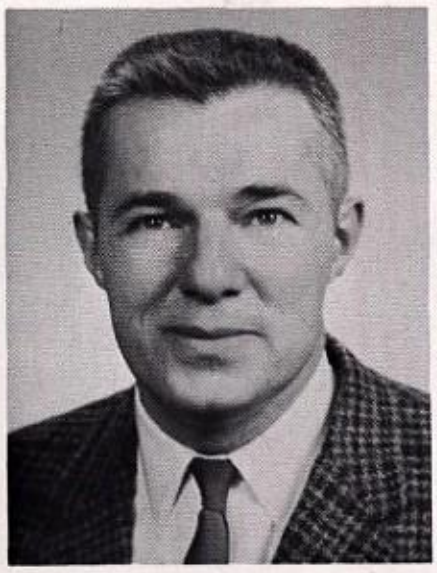
URBANE BYLER teaches junior and senior high vocational agriculture. He is advisor to the Junior Agriculture Club and the Future Farmers of America.



MARY KNERR teaches home economics to girls in grades 7 to 12. She is now serving as advisor of the Girls' Service Club.

JOHN REPPERT teaches industrial arts to the jr. - sr. high grades. This year Mr. Reppert was honored by being chosen "teacher of the year" for the Eastern Pennsylvania region.

Fine Arts Department

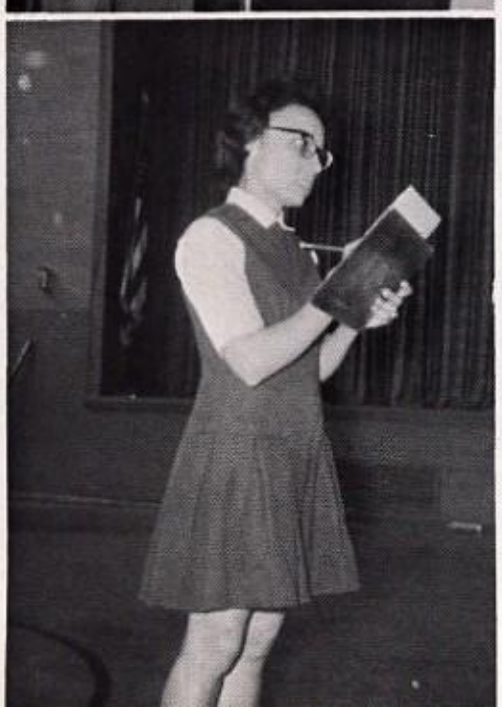


FREDERICK MANTZ teaches junior high music and is director of the school band. Mr. Mantz also takes a great interest in Northwestern sports.

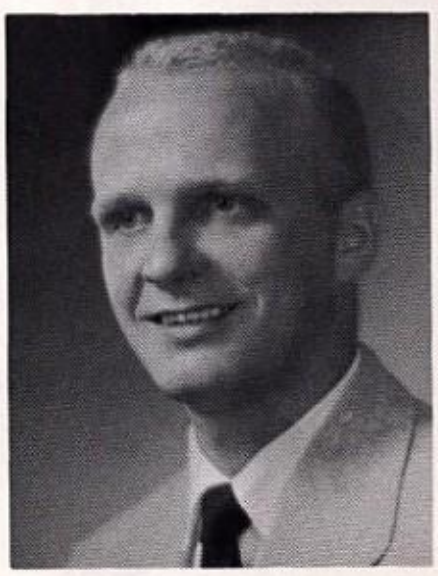
MARILYN MILES teaches junior high art and senior high elective art. She is the advisor of the Junior Art Club, the Senior Pallette Club, and the class of '68.

CAMELLIA SOLDRIDGE teaches elementary music, and is the director of both the jr. and sr. choruses. She is a graduate of William Carey College and the University of Mississippi.

Physical Education Department



BRUCE KEMMERER teaches boys' gym in grades seven through twelve, and sophomore and senior health. He also serves as an advisor of the Class of '69.



BARBARA PIERCE returned to Northwestern this year to teach girls' gym in grades 7 through 12. She serves as advisor to the cheering squads and Jr. and Sr. G. A. A.

Librarian

SARAH MOSCHINI is "guardian" of the school library, and advisor to both the Junior and Senior Library Clubs. Mrs. Moschini is a graduate of Maryville College and Drexel Institute.

Guidance Department

CHARLOTTE E. KERSCHNER usually has an over-abundant amount of work, but is always available to those who seek her help--from the 7th graders with "just beginning" problems to the seniors with "never ending" troubles.

School Nurse

ELAINE HAUSMAN is in charge of the school's medical department. Mrs. Hausman received her R. N. at the Allentown School of Nursing.

Driver Education

Driver Education is taught by Mr. David Smith. This course, offered to juniors, teaches safe driving procedures through class theory and supervised driving experience.

Special Education

The Special Education course has been expanded to include students of high school age. This class is now under the direction of Mrs. Janice Klotz.

Teachers' Association Sponsors Satellites

On December 9, the halls of Northwestern High School resounded with laughter and cheers as the Harlem Satellites took on the Faculty All-Stars. This welcome event, sponsored by the Teachers' Association, was the first of its type at Northwestern.

Led by "Rookie" Brown, the Satellites baffled the faculty with their basketball artistry. There was little the faculty could do to stop the Satellites from going into orbit. From sinking long shots to playing a wild game of baseball, the satellites had it mastered. This, accompanied by lots of laughs, brought a most enjoyable evening to all the people in Northwestern's gym.

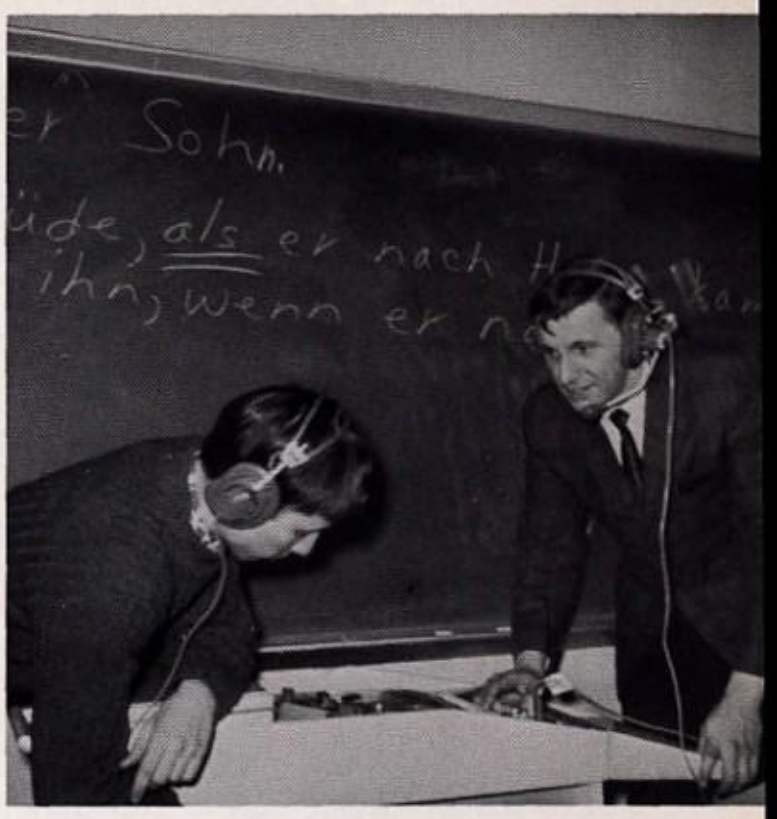
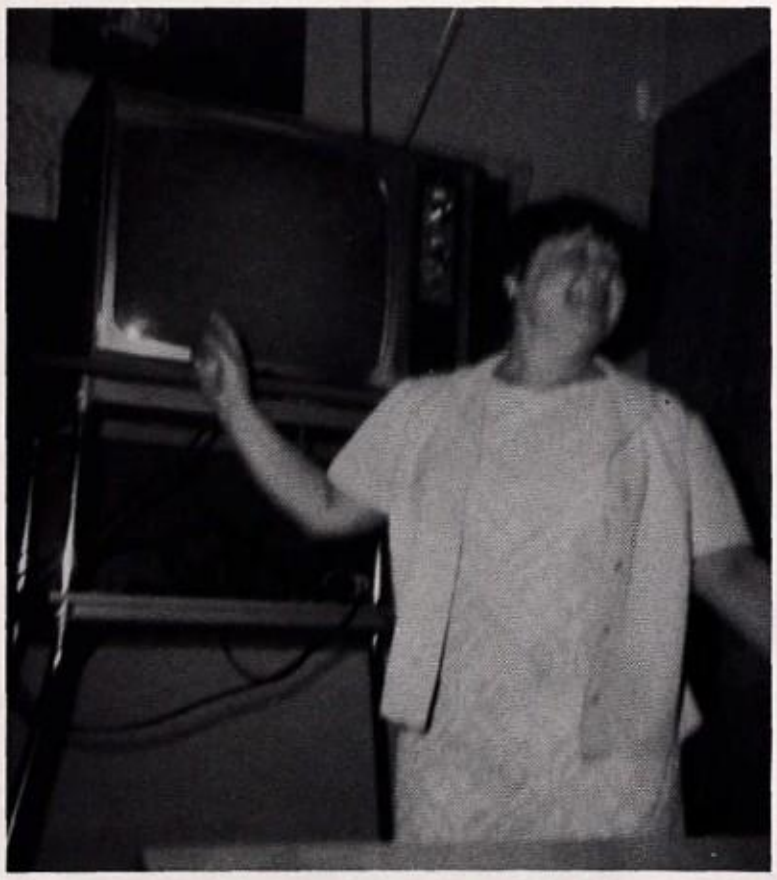
Innovations and Progress

Portable Language Laboratory



Although the new portable language lab is adaptable to any instruction, it is used mainly by Mr. Baer in his German III classes. It contains twelve stations at present and will next year double this amount. The lab is used for remedial teaching and enables students to study undisturbed for it filters out all outside auditory distractions. The language laboratory has proven to be a great help to many students.



Educational Television

A new addition to Northwestern's educational department is educational television. Used primarily by the English department, it has contributed much to the interest of the students. However, not only has it increased interest, but is a supplementary aid for the teacher's lessons and adds much information to the student's constantly growing knowledge.

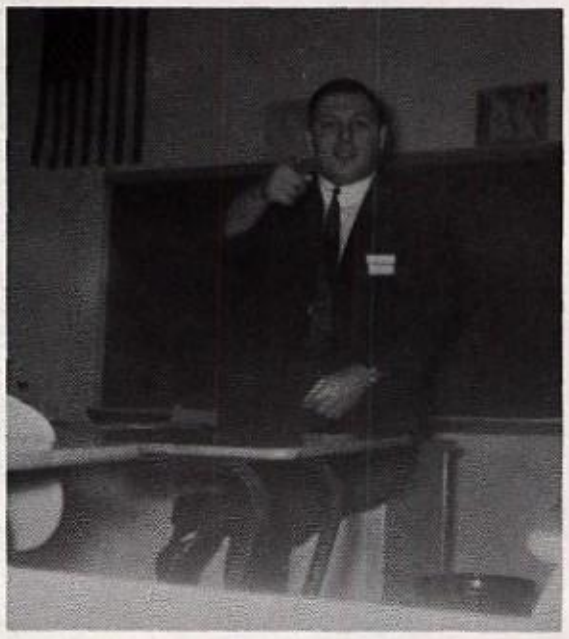
Student Teachers

For the first time, Northwestern assisted Kutztown State College in its program of teacher preparation. Two student teachers were assigned to the German department to prepare for their future roles as fulltime German teachers.

Mr. Edward Ritter, who was the first to appear on the scene, arrived in the latter part of January and remained until March 31. Miss Diane Lilly then began her student teaching at Northwestern and remained until the end of May. Both were assisted, of course, by Mr. Richard Baer and both remarked that they liked Northwestern very much.

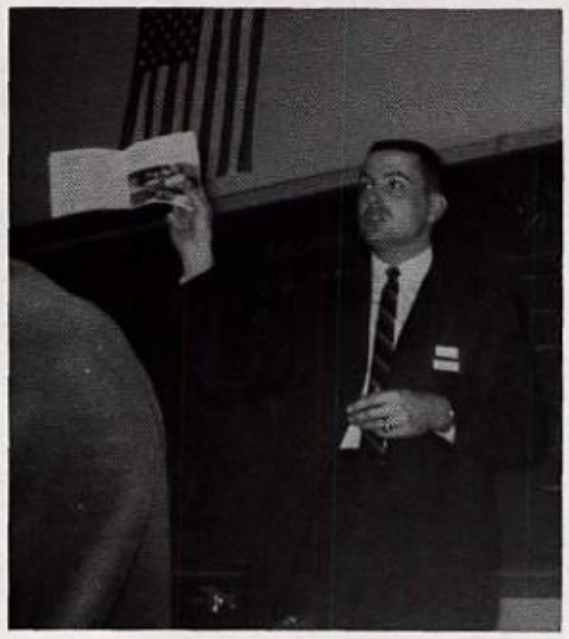
As for the students, they seemed to enjoy this experience and look forward to the time when Northwestern may again assist an aspiring educator.

Special



Career Day

On April 12, Career Day was once again held at Northwestern. Seventy-seven speakers discussed the requirements, demands, salaries, and rewards of many occupations to groups of students who were desirous of this information. The speakers gave the students an opportunity to examine the types of jobs that are available to them and to learn how to prepare themselves for these careers. A day set aside for these seminars is certainly of benefit to all students, for it stirs their interest in their future occupational plans and serves as a guide for their stops on the road of life.



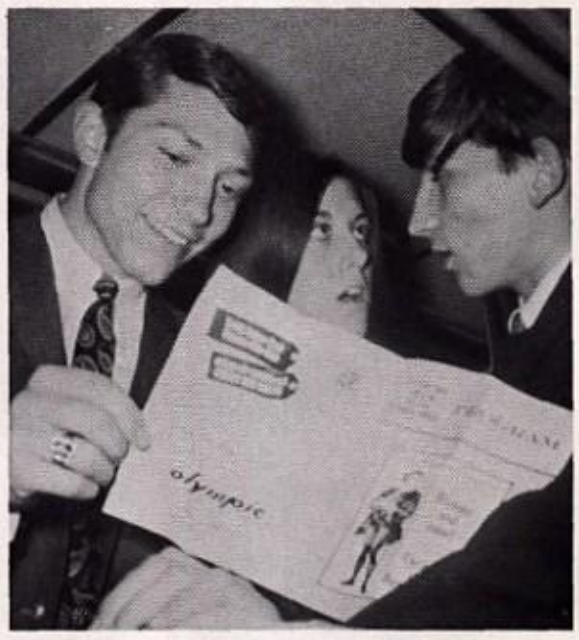
Events

Rhythmics Assembly

On March 17, Northwestern was fortunate to be host of Maurice and Carol Phillippi--rhythmic dancers who presented a fascinating assembly on the importance of physical fitness. The Phillippis have appeared on a number of television programs as well as in many outstanding supper clubs throughout the United States.

Christmas Assembly

On December 22, the annual Christmas Assembly was held in the gymnasium. The program included a play presented by the French classes, a variety of choral arrangements by the Junior and Senior Choruses, and Christmas carols played by the school band. As in preceding years, this assembly was welcomed by the students. (They got out of classes!) It was evident that much time and preparation had been put into this presentation.



Field Trip

In the interest of furthering their literary appreciation, a group of sophomores and seniors took a field trip to Fallsburg, New York, to see the play "Cyrano de Bergerac." The performance was by a professional road company, and was of a quality that made the trip well worth-while.
